Carrie B. Draper is a registered representative of Neuberger Berman BD LLC, an affiliate of Neuberger IA and a U.S. registered broker dealer. In addition, Carrie B. Draper also provides advisory services on behalf of affiliates of Neuberger IA. Those other business relationships may result in certain actual or perceived conflicts from time to time. These conflicts may relate to, among other things, the advice given to clients and the time and resources devoted to clients by supervised persons. These conflicts are managed through compliance with Neuberger's Code of Ethics and other compliance policies and procedures. Please refer to Neuberger IA's Part 2A Brochure for more detailed discussion of these conflicts and how they are managed.

Additional Compensation

The Wealth Advisor compensation structure is designed to encourage long-term relationships and to ensure that investment product recommendations are made in the best interests of clients and that investment decisions are consistent with the client's objectives. Wealth Advisors are eligible to participate in one or more compensation pools, each of which is made available to the Wealth Advisor or a Wealth Advisor team with which the Wealth Advisor is associated. The amount available in each compensation pool is determined based on a number of factors including the revenue that is generated by the Wealth Advisor or the particular Wealth Advisor team and certain other quantitative measures. Revenue differs by product, which, in some cases, creates an incentive to promote particular products; however, those risks are offset by the incentive to develop long-term relationships. Wealth Advisors may also be eligible to receive additional compensation based on achieving certain net sales goals. Neuberger IA has policies and procedures in place to monitor and manage any conflicts of interest that may arise as a result of this structure. With respect to retirement accounts, Neuberger IA has established additional limitations based on applicable rules and consistent with Neuberger IA's fiduciary duties.
